

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY AND PERSONAL NOTES.

DOINGS IN WASHINGTON AND OTHER CITIES.

Mrs. Roosevelt Shortly to Send Out Invitations for Afternoon at Home—Series of White House Musicales After the Christmas Holidays.

The White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt will shortly send out cards for another afternoon at home and after the holidays will give a series of musicales on Friday evenings.

Miss Roosevelt, the daughter of the President, who is visiting New York, will assist at the reception which Mrs. W. Emelen Roosevelt will give in honor of her daughter, Christine, at Sherry's tomorrow night, and at the coming out tea of Miss Dorothy Quincy Roosevelt, daughter of Mrs. Hilborne L. Roosevelt, on Friday afternoon.

The Foreign Colony.

Count Cassini and Countess Marguerite Cassini gave a small dinner last night to the embassy staff.

Senora de Azpiroz, wife of the Mexican ambassador, who passed the summer in Mexico, hoping to be benefited by a long visit in her home climate, has returned to Washington somewhat better than when she left here. She is, however, more or less of an invalid, and will not take part in social functions until after the 1st of January. Senora de Azpiroz will be assisted in receiving this winter by her daughter, Senora de Perez Rivera, who makes her home with her parents. The ambassador's younger daughter, Senorita Belen, is still at school, and will not be presented to society for two years.

Senor Godoy, first secretary to the Mexican embassy, and Senora Godoy are in mourning for Senora Godoy's father, whose death occurred in the summer.

The Belgian minister and Baroness Moncheur have sent out invitations for a dinner Wednesday night in honor of Miss Clayton, Baroness Moncheur's sister, who is a guest at the legation.

Notes.

Justice Holmes reached Washington from Boston this morning and will stay at the New Willard until the house he has leased in Lafayette Place is ready for occupancy. Mrs. Holmes will join her husband later on.

Princess di Poggio Suasa, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, left town Friday night, and will sail for Europe early in January. Her sister, Marquise de Talleyrand-Perigord, will remain in America for the winter, dividing her time between New York and Chatsworth.

Among the debutantes of the coming week will be Miss Julia Patten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Patten, who will be presented at a tea on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Edith Needham, the youngest daughter of Charles M. Needham, president of Columbia University, will make her debut this winter. Miss Needham has recently returned from France, where she has been at school for the past two years.

Mrs. Warden gave a small dinner Saturday night.

Mrs. John Davis, although still in mourning for her husband, who died last year, will entertain informally this winter, and on Saturday evening gave a small dinner in honor of the Countess Molke de Hultfeldt.

Mrs. M. A. Douglass, with her son and daughter, William and Alice, has returned from Richmond, Va., where they have lived for the past three years, and are staying with relatives in Third Street northeast.

Mrs. Daisy Fitzhugh Ayres, of Lexington, Ky., is passing the winter in Washington at 2305 Washington Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Binger Hermann have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Maybelle, to Howard Prescott Gately, on Wednesday, December 17, at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Ascension.

The friends of Governor and Mrs. Stone, of Pennsylvania, have received invitations to a reception which will be given at the executive mansion in Harrisburg, Thursday, December 18, to introduce their second daughter, Miss Jane Stone.

Mrs. Barry Bulkley and her daughter, Louise, have gone to Louisville, where they will visit Mrs. Bulkley's mother, Mrs. Anne T. Wheat.

Mrs. John H. Roche is visiting Mrs. Sidney Ray, wife of the secretary of the Turkish legation, in New York city.

Miss Myrtle Solomon, of Denver, Col., will pass the winter with her sister, Mrs. V. E. Adler, 1205 Tenth Street northwest.

The Unity Literary Club met Wednesday evening in the sun room of the Hotel Stratford. The president, Judge H. B. Moulton, presided. Dr. Henry Baker read an interesting essay, entitled "Some Personal Observations Up the Nile," carrying his audience, in imagination, up the river from Alexandria to the head of navigation, stopping en route at Cairo, the Pyramids, the Sphinx, Memphis, the Tombs of Apis, Thebes, Luxor, and Carnae. Miss M. C. Bennett supplemented the essay with an instructive talk upon her observations and experiences on a similar visit to Egypt.

A Delarte pantomime was gracefully given by Miss Duffy, illustrating "Sandalwood," which Mrs. Duffy read. Miss Duffy also recited "The Sile," S. K. Hall recited Edwin Arnold's poem, "He and She." A contralto solo, "Kiss Me Ver," was sung by Mrs. R. L. Townsend. Mr. E. Kahn recited "My Brothers. Let Us Pray," and, by request, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." A recitation, "The Five Blades Lowndes, son of former governor, Lloyd Lowndes, of Cumberland, and Mrs. Lowndes, are visiting the parents of the latter, Mr. and Mrs. John Wirt Randall, on Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Lowndes gave a tea in honor of the young ladies who acted as her bridesmaids at her wedding three weeks ago.

Mrs. Schouler, wife of Admiral John Schouler, retired, will be at home on Thursdays in November and December.

Toasts," by W. D. Slaughter, concluded the program. After the club adjourned refreshments were served by the proprietor of the Stratford.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Mitchell, who were to sail from London today on the St. Paul for New York, intending to spend Christmas in San Francisco, have postponed their trip indefinitely owing to the sudden indisposition of Mrs. Mitchell.

Daniel S. Lamont has arrived at the Grand Hotel du Louvre et la Paix at Marseilles.

Society at the Naval Academy.

The last dance ever to be given in the old armory took place Saturday evening. Beginning with next week, the hops will be held in the new armory, which contains thirty thousand square feet of floor space. The new building is an excellent place for dances. The floor is made of wooden blocks laid in hering-bone fashion, planed by machine and hand, and then polished. The effect by electric light is dazzling. The only criticism made is that the foundation is so hard there is an insufficient spring to the floor.

A number of naval people took advantage of the Thanksgiving holidays to visit relatives and friends in Annapolis. Admiral Winfield S. Schley and Mrs. Schley stayed several days with the Misses Franklin, relatives of Mrs. Schley.

Miss Margaret Brownson, daughter of Capt. Willard H. Brownson, superintendent of the Academy, spent the holidays with her parents.

Miss Dorothy Swinburne, daughter of Capt. William T. Swinburne, commanding the Texas, is visiting Miss Randall. Ensign B. F. Tardy and Mrs. Tardy are the guests of Mrs. Tardy's parents, Commander Thomas Nelson and wife.

Some of the parents who visited their sons, who are midshipmen, during the holidays, were Admiral George Brown, U. S. N., and Mrs. Brown; Mr. and Mrs. George Darlow, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. J. Decker, of Montclair, N. J.; Jean F. P. des Garrennes, of the French embassy at Washington, has been visiting his parents, Prof. des Garrennes, of the Naval Academy, and Madame des Garrennes.

A tea was given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. McCormick, wife of Admiral Alexander H. McCormick, retired, in honor of her guest, Miss Wilson, of New York. Mrs. McCormick was assisted in receiving by Miss Wilson, Miss McCormick, and Miss Clara McCormick.

The engagement of Miss Nannie Sigmund, of Baltimore, to William N. Jeffers, ensign, U. S. N., is announced. Mr. Jeffers is the son of Mrs. Anne Dutton Jeffers, State librarian.

Bladen Lowndes, son of former governor, Lloyd Lowndes, of Cumberland, and Mrs. Lowndes, are visiting the parents of the latter, Mr. and Mrs. John Wirt Randall, on Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Lowndes gave a tea in honor of the young ladies who acted as her bridesmaids at her wedding three weeks ago.

Miss Roosevelt to Assist at Reception at Sherry's in New York in Honor of Miss Christine Roosevelt—Naval Academy Society.

The New York surgeon, is very ill at his villa on Marine Avenue. Mr. McKay is the millionaire inventor of machines for the sewing of shoes, and from his royalty on patents he derives a large fortune annually.

The Assembly ball, which will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria on Thursday, and which is the most fashionable of all the subscription balls, promises to be unusually brilliant this year, and Eliza Dyer, Jr., has consented, out of compliment to the women of the committee, to depart from his usual custom of not leading at large entertainments of that kind, and will direct the cotillon. Mr. Lloyd Bryce, Mrs. Charles A. Post, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt will receive the guests.

Colonel and Mrs. John Jacob Astor's baby daughter was christened today. The candle party was held in the country home of little Miss Astor's parents, in Rhinebeck. The child's grandmothers, Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Edward S. Willing, of Philadelphia, as well as her aunt, Mrs. M. Orme Wilson, were present.

Miss Lena Morton, who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Payne Whitney at their country home, at Westbury, L. I., has returned, and is at her home, 681 Fifth Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dwight Collier, of 8 East Forty-eighth Street, gave a dinner party Saturday night to young married people.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Seligman, Jefferson Seligman, and Miss Margaret Seligman, have taken apartments at the Lakewood Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rushmore will give a tea on Saturday, December 13, to introduce their daughter, Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNeil are visiting Mrs. McNeil's parents, Senator and Mrs. Burrows, in Washington.

The initial dance of the season of the Cotillon of Eighty will be held tonight, at Delmonico's. Mrs. Algernon S. Sullivan, Mrs. Samuel Spencer, Mrs. William R. Barr, Mrs. William H. Bliss, Mrs. Gilman Collamore, Mrs. Thomas P. Fowler, Mrs. William H. Moore, and Mrs. Thomas Hicks, the patronesses, will receive the guests.

Gen. and Mrs. Francis Vinton Greene will give a small dance at their residence, 23 East Thirtieth Street, for their debutante daughter, Miss Gertrude Greene, in the holiday season.

Mrs. Julius Catlin and Miss Edith R. Catlin, mother and sister of Mrs. Trenor L. Park, have closed Fairholme, their country place at Morristown, N. J., and gone for the winter to their residence, 1722 I Street, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., will give a dinner next Wednesday evening before Mrs. Pullman's ball.

Social Notes From the Quaker City.

Mrs. Thomas Alexander Kelly, president of the patronesses for the German-American Charity Ball, has received acceptances to the invitations to the ball which she sent to the German ambassador, Dr. von Holleben, and his secretaries, and to the Austrian ambassador and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. von Engelmueller. Mrs. Kelly will give a dinner in their honor on the night of the ball, February 2, and has reserved for herself and her guests proscenium box No. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Lloyd formally presented their daughter to society Friday afternoon, at a tea, from 4 until 7 o'clock, at their residence, 329 South Seventeenth Street.

A double presentation of debutantes took place Saturday afternoon from 5 until 7 o'clock at the Aldine Hotel, where Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lucas, of 500 South Forty-first Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harlow Ayres, of the Aldine, introduced their daughters, Miss Mabel Lucas and Miss Marion Kent Ayres.

Mrs. William M. Potts gave a luncheon at the Bellevue Saturday in honor of Miss Helen Laurier Potts.

E. Spencer Miller gave a tea Saturday at the Acorn Club, from 5 to 7, when he presented his niece, Miss Virginia Breckenridge Miller, to society. The tea was followed by a dinner, to which a number of this season's debutantes were asked, and a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb J. Milne, Jr., presented their daughter, Lenore Milne, at a tea on Saturday.

Mrs. J. Parker Norris gave a dinner Friday evening at her residence, 2122 Pine Street, in honor of her daughter, Miss Alice Isabel Norris. Her guests were Miss Christine Wheeler, Miss Dorothy Emelen, Miss Phoebe Phillips, Miss Virginia B. Miller, Miss Armitage Struthers, Miss Mildred Dick, Lawrence Morris, Thomas Ridgway, Arthur Gerhardt, Hare Davis, William D. Carpenter, H. Radcliffe Roberts, Richard D. Wood, and John Parker Norris, Jr.

Fashionable folk gathered at the home of Mrs. George M. Pullman Friday night for the evening of monologues and music by Miss Ethel Henry, of London.

The only subscription dances to be given this year are a series of three at Bourne's on December 18, January 15, and February 19. The idea of patronesses and permitting the women to subscribe as well as the men make them almost identical with the old Ette Nous and Metropole affairs that were so popular a few years ago. A full orchestra under the direction of Krell will provide the music. The treasurer is Mrs. Robert H. Harvey, 2109 Calumet Avenue.

Rear Admiral James W. Forsyth, who will spend the winter in the Bahamas, was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Pennsylvania Commandery, Naval Order of the United States, last Saturday evening, at the United Service Club, 1429 Walnut Street.

Mrs. Augustus Green, 2306 Calumet Avenue, will give a dinner for her son, Irwin Green, December 23, in honor of the debutantes, Miss Natalie Blair and Miss Lucille Gretchen. She will also give a dinner for Miss Grace Green December 29 preceding Mrs. Boland's dance.

Mrs. Lawrence G. Hallberg, Elfsborg, Evanston, gave a large reception on Saturday from 4 to 7 o'clock to introduce her daughter, Miss Margaret Hallberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blair, 110 Rush Street, have cards out for a cotillon to take place Christmas Eve. The affair is in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Edith Blair.

Mrs. Addison Foster, wife of Senator Foster, of Washington State, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Foster, of Kenilworth, and is on her way to Washington.

PRINCE HENRY OF PLESS NOT TO SUCCEED VON HOLLEBEN

"New York Herald" Correspondent Says Such Talk Is Result of Newspaper Fiction.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A special cable to the "New York Herald" dated Berlin, Sunday, says:

"The announcement of an agency from New York that Prince Henry of Pless, who recently visited New York as representative of the Kaiser at the inauguration of the chamber of commerce building, is to succeed Dr. von Holleben as German ambassador is a newspaper fiction.

"In fact, the Kaiser has no intention of recalling Dr. von Holleben, who does not express any desire to retire from his post.

"Prince Henry of Pless has recently chosen a diplomatic career and is still very young. He is now at the disposal of the Kaiser, and it is well known that the monarch is holding him in reserve for some good diplomatic post. Prince Henry of Pless was the guest of the Kaiser at a shooting party at Neudeck. He is one of the richest members of the family of German princes."

TAKES WIDOW TO EUROPE AND SPENDS HER CASH

Palmit Posed as Nephew of J. Coleman Drayton, and Was Punished for Swindling.

EL PASO, TEXAS, Dec. 8.—J. J. Craig, alias J. C. Drayton, has been holding forth as a palmit in this city and in that capacity has worked upon the credulity of several rich women to secure their money.

From Mrs. M. A. McPatton, an aged widow from New York, he borrowed $10,000 on his I. O. U. He took the widow to Europe with him and purchased diamonds. He pawned these here for $5,000.

Upon complaint of the woman's friends, who said she had become crazed by Craig's seances, the police looked up the man's record. He finally broke down and turned over to them the pawn tickets and all his jewelry to reimburse the widow.

The officers told him to leave town. No charges had been preferred against him. The diamonds are valued at $25,000.

Among other things, the police discovered that Craig had posed in Europe and America as J. Coleman Drayton's nephew and used the name to swindle. Drayton had sent him to prison for two years at Baden and published a letter in August warning the public against the swindler.

Craig has been arrested, under various aliases, at Kansas City and San Francisco. He is also wanted at New Orleans. He did a heavy business here.

NEW YORK NOW FLAGSHIP ON PACIFIC STATION

Admiral Casey to Raise His Flag on the Cruiser This Week.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Admiral Casey, commander of the Pacific squadron, will hoist his flag on the cruiser New York this week. Thereafter the cruiser will be the flagship on this coast.

The battleship Wisconsin, just from Panama, will sail soon for Bremerton Navy Yard to be outfitted for the Asiatic station. Capt. George Reiter has been detached and will go east.

Officers brought word that Lieut. A. H. Dutton, an Annapolis graduate, who is now executive officer of the Colombian gunboat Bogota, fell down the companionway at Panama and broke several ribs.

CHURCH RECEPTION.

A reception will be held tonight beginning at 8 o'clock at the home of Isaac Hitt, 1334 Columbia Road, in honor of the Rev. Joseph Dawson and Mrs. Dawson. The reception is under the auspices of the trustees and Ladies' Guild of the Methodist Episcopal Society of Mount Pleasant. Mr. Hitt being president of the board of trustees. The society was organized about two months ago out of the Methodist families of Mount Pleasant, and the Rev. Dawson was appointed pastor in charge of the congregation.
